Description

Explore, learn and understand the complexities in the development, sustainability and leverage of a brand. In this comprehensive course, students learn how brand identity must be nurtured and managed to positively affect a company's performance and future, as well as understand the power and importance of a brand from its creation through execution. This course presents students with an overview of brand development; brand research; and brand management structures for sales, marketing, advertising and promotional purposes. In addition, students explore how companies develop financial wealth by extending existing brands and controlling and/or influencing brand pricing and distribution. Additional topics include an overview of brand history, understanding the differences between brand equity and brand identity and consideration of how brands are won and lost.

Objectives

1. A pertinent goal and is to teach students current and relevant marketing nomenclature, concepts, ethics, and principles in order to create perception of their marketing knowledge.
2. More importantly, my passion is to stress the correlation of the newly learned concepts with a sense of business acumen in order to be successful in today's competitive marketing environment.
3. Throughout this course, students will practice soft skills such as team collaboration and public speaking strategies, both essential within corporate marketing.
4. Finally, by bridging the gap between a student's left and right brain tendencies, they will become a stronger businessperson with, of course, an emphasis in marketing.

Outcomes

At the end of the course, you will be able to…

- Explain the key concepts outlined in the course description, and apply them to identify a brand, analyze brand situations, and create appropriate brand strategies.
- Apply learning acquired directly from real-life marketing and branding examples and case studies.
- Develop various portions of an effective branding initiative for a new or existing product or service.
- Prepare, present, implement, and manage marketing communication and branding campaigns.
- Utilize key branding nomenclature, preparing you for real-world nomenclature.
- Explain the relationship of branding within an organization and the effects it has on financial goals, short- and long-term growth, successes, and failures.

✱ Course Policies

Critical thinking

In marketing/branding there are few "right" answers: what works for one company at one time might fail for another company or at another time. All assignments will be evaluated on the quality of the reasoning, and how well they integrate lessons from the reading, class discussions, and supplementary research. You must demonstrate critical thinking that describes "why" and "how," not just "what."

Clarity

Clear communications are essential in branding. Please make sure your writing and class presentations are understandable, professional and free of egregious errors.

Attendance

You are expected to attend ALL class sessions. If an absence is unavoidable, please contact the instructor beforehand. Please also arrive on time.

Plagiarism

The intentional or unintentional borrowing of another person's ideas, images, research, or data without citation is a serious breach of academic integrity. Cheating, copying other's work, and plagiarism are not tolerated and will result in disciplinary action. Students are responsible for being familiar with the information on Student Conduct in the General Information Section of the UCLA Extension Catalog or on the website at www.uclaextension.edu (http://www.uclaextension.edu).

Respect

Accord all your classmates, guest speakers and your instructor with courtesy. You should certainly question and criticize ideas, but never criticize the person. You may use a computer for taking notes, but not for email or browsing the web.

Professionalism

Being a professional does not necessarily mean wearing a suit or checking your personality at the door. For this class (and, hopefully, beyond), professionalism means giving every project and assignment your best possible effort; it means living up to your word to your teammates and instructor; it means being on time and meeting all deadlines; and it means conducting yourself in a manner that is appropriate to the policies and culture of a particular environment. Finally, all of us can improve what we do, even the instructors. Regardless of how marketing savvy we are at the beginning of this class, all of us should strive to become even better.

Creativity

To end this list on a positive note, branding is a business discipline where wild leaps of imagination are not only allowed, but encouraged. Have fun with the assignments, and remember that when it comes to branding, your ideas are what matter most.

🏛 Institutional Policies

Student Conduct

Students are subject to disciplinary action for several types of misconduct or attempted misconduct, including but not limited to academic dishonesty, such as cheating, multiple submission, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the University; or behavioral misconduct, such as theft or misuse of the intellectual property of others, harassment, or disruption of the learning environment.

All published and unpublished material, whether in manuscript, printed or electronic form, is covered under this definition and includes the use of material generated wholly or in part through the use of artificial intelligence (except when the use of AI has received prior authorization for assessment as a reasonable accommodation for a student's disability, or when the use of AI is a specified part of the coursework, e.g. data science or user experience). Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the Student Rights & Responsibilities Policy (https://www.uclaextension.edu/student-services/rights-and-responsibilities) and to report concerns.

Services for Students with Disabilities

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, UCLA Extension provides appropriate accommodations and support services to qualified applicants and students with disabilities. These include, but are not limited to, auxiliary aids/services such as sign language interpreters, assistive listening devices for hearing-impaired individuals, extended time for and proctoring of exams, and registration assistance. Accommodations and types of support services vary and are specifically designed to meet the disability-related needs of each student based on current, verifiable medical documentation. Arrangements for auxiliary aids/services are available only through UCLA Extension's Service for Students with Disabilities Office at (310) 825-7851 or by email at ODS@uclaextension.edu. For complete information, please visit Accessibility and Disability Services (https://www.uclaextension.edu/enrollment-and-support/accessibility-and-disability-services).

Incompletes

The interim grade Incomplete (I) may be approved for a student who has completed the majority of the course requirements, with passing quality (grade C or higher), but is unable to complete a small portion of the coursework by the course end date for good cause. For courses in which an Incomplete may be allowed, approval by the instructor of record and the academic program director is required. The Incomplete grade is not an option for courses that do not bear credit, such as 700, 800, or 900-level courses.

- It is the student's responsibility to petition for an Incomplete by emailing the appropriate academic program department (https://www.uclaextension.edu/contact-ucla-extension) at least one week before the end of the course. The Program Department will initiate the petition process once the email is received.
- The student, the instructor, the CE/Program Director, and the program staff must complete the petition prior to the final course meeting or before the quarter end date (https://www.uclaextension.edu/calendar). This process can take up to one week to complete.
- The instructor will approve or deny the request. The instructor will provide details on what the student needs to accomplish in order to complete the course, as well as a due date for submitting completed work. The due date cannot exceed the end of the ensuing quarter (https://www.uclaextension.edu/calendar) when a final grade must be reported or the Incomplete lapses to the grade "F," "NP," or "U." Visit UCLA Extension Grading Scale (https://www.uclaextension.edu/transcripts-credits-grades/grading-scale) for more information.

An Incomplete allows the student to complete only work that is outstanding and does not allow prior completed work to be retaken or resubmitted.

All Grades are Final

No change of grade may be made by anyone other than the instructor, and then, only to correct clerical errors. No term grade except Incomplete may be revised by re-examination. The correction of a clerical error may be authorized only by the instructor of record communicating directly with personnel of Student and Alumni Services.

Sexual Harassment

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in an atmosphere free of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. The University will respond promptly and effectively to reports of sexual harassment and sexual violence, and will take appropriate action to prevent, to correct, and when necessary, to discipline behavior that violates our policy.

All Extension students and instructors who believe they have been sexually harassed are encouraged to contact the Department of Student and Alumni Services for complaint resolution: UCLA Extension, 1145 Gayley Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90024; Voice/TTY: (310) 825-7031.
