385587: Financial Control of Operations MGMT-X 429.4

Spring 2022 Section 1 4 Credits 03/28/2022 to 06/12/2022 Modified 12/13/2021

Meeting Times

Weekly online class posted on UCLA Extension's Canvas website each Wednesday (beginning March 30, 2022) at 8 am and will be available until 11:59 pm the following Tuesday.

Description

This course examines the techniques of interpreting and analyzing financial and accounting data for management control. The course covers topics such as financial information, cash flow statements, financial statement analysis, growth rate analysis, revenue recognition, earnings per share, fixed assets, inventory, financial instruments, and leases. Students develop an understanding of the financial and accounting information that is needed by management to assist in the control of operations.

Objectives

In this course you will:

1. Learn sources of accounting and financial information and how this information is used in the management decision-making process.
2. Interpret accounting and financial data for use in business planning.
3. Learn how to use accounting and financial data to control business operations and how to make operational decisions to improve a company's financial condition.

Outcomes

By the end of this course, you will be able to:

1. Prepare budgets, forecasts and other financial tools to better manage a company's operations.
2. Create relevant Key Performance Indicators for a company's management team.
3. Apply accounting and financial information for successful business planning and improvement

UCLA Extension Canvas Web Site

When you log onto Canvas for the course, you should see the following links on the left hand side of the page. Use these links as described below:

- Announcements: I will use this link to communicate with you throughout the course. You should receive an email for each Announcement posted. If you do not get the emails, check to see that Canvas and UCLA Extension have your correct email address. Email Announcements are archived at this site.
- Course Syllabus: The complete Syllabus for the course should be read carefully at the beginning of the quarter and referred to from time-to-time during the quarter. The Syllabus is our "contract" on what is expected, when it is expected and how it will be graded. The Course Schedule or calendar may be found on the last page of the Syllabus.
- People: By Thursday of the first week of class, please go to the Profiles site and share a little information about yourself. Your shared information will be found at this site along with the information for each of your classmates and your instructor.
- Modules: Each week you will access the Module for that week to see assignments, readings and PowePoint charts for that week.

  For weeks 1 through 11 you will find the following:

  Week X Lecture and Assignments - A Word document is the first thing you read each week. The lecture helps you focus on specific sections of each assigned chapter in the textbook and gives you specific instructions on Assignments for that week.

Week X PowerPoint Charts - PowerPoint charts will be posted each week, The charts will cover the material in the weekly Assignments. Anything not included in the lecture or PowerPoint charts may be ignored when reading the textbook. Another way of putting this...first read the lecture, then read the PowerPoint charts, then read only those parts of the chapter(s) in the textbook that was (were) covered in the lecture and PowerPoint charts.

Week X Additional Readings - Some weeks will have Additional Readings that provides extra instruction, information or current events covering that week's subjects. You should read whatever is posted in that week's Additional Readings before reading the textbook, posting to the DQ or doing the homework for that week.

Week X Discussion Question (DQ) - Some weeks you will have a Discussion Question (DQ) that makes up a significant part of your grade. See a description of what is required in each week's DQ under DELIVERABLES in the next section of the Syllabus.

Week X Post Your Homework - Some weeks you will have homework from the textbook that must be submitted online at this site by the deadline shown in the Course Schedule. See discussion of homework under DELIVERABLES in the next section of this Syllabus.

Week X Quiz - A quiz will be given each week and is available to you until the due date. See discussion of Quizzes under DELIVERABLES later in this Syllabus.

- Grades: This site takes you to your grades for each graded assignment and has an icon for each assignment you can click to see Comments I've made for that assignment (primarily for DQ's).

Deliverables

Discussion Questions (DQs)

There will be one DQ each week, except weeks 6, 7 and 8. You are required to post an original response to each week's DQ by Saturday midnight of that week and respond to at least one posting from another student for each DQ by midnight the following Monday.

To get the most out of this course and to earn the most points toward your grade, you should actively and thoughtfully participate in the DQ's. Get to know your classmates and develop a dialogue with them. Learn by sharing experiences with them through the DQ's.

The distinguishing feature of a well done DQ response will include an objective, thoughtful, critical analysis of what you have read, your opinions and examples from your experience or readings.

Your responses to classmates should contain more than phrases such as "I agree", "I enjoyed reading your response", "I like your comments" or "Interesting comment". Using any of these phrases is not considered a response. You should discuss in detail, like you would in a conversation, WHY you agree or disagree or WHY you the comment interesting. You should include a discussion, references and arguments to support your thoughts. In responding to your classmates' discussions, follow the guidelines in the "Core Rules of Netiquette" in Week 1's Additional Readings.

Please start each response to a classmate with the classmate's name. When I am grading your DQ's I cannot tell the classmate to whom you are responding if you don't begin with their name.

Successful students check the DQ's, read what all the other students wrote, and interact with others throughout the week.

Each week I will grade your DQ's as discussed below and will give you individual feedback on your postings. I will also have a "Final Reply" to each DQ. I think you will find the Final Replies informative, hopefully interesting, and a part of your learning experience.

Each DQ is worth 10 points. You may earn up to 2 bonus points on each DQ. Your score on each DQ is based on the "Matrix for Grading DQs and Case Studies" (the Matrix) posted in Week 1's Additional Readings as further explained below.

In the Matrix, DQ responses that fall in the "Basic" column earn 8 points. "Basic" responses include:

1. Posting a thoughtful response that meets the basic mechanics, participation, content and critical thinking in the Matrix.
2. Your response to my question is posted by Saturday midnight each week
3. Your response to at least one of your classmates is posted by midnight the following Monday.

In the Matrix, the DQ responses that fall in the "Proficient" column earn 9 or 10 points. "Proficient" responses include:

1. Referencing outside sources.
2. Responding to more than one classmate.
3. Presenting a more in-depth analysis and thoughtful discussion that your classmates.
4. Exhibiting a thoughtful response to the material covered in the course related to the DQ.
5. Presenting "real world" experiences that are relevant to the question and add to classmates interest in your presentation.

In the Matrix, DQ responses that fall in the "Distinguished" column earn 11 or 12 points. "Distinguished" responses include:

1. Responses that far exceed the instructor's expectations.
2. Responses that indicate considerable more thought and outside research than the responses from your classmates.
3. Very thoughtful responses to two or more classmates.
4. Responses that introduce new cases, concepts or experiences that significantly add to the interest and learning your classmates receive from reading your responses.

In the Matrix, DQ responses that fall in the "Unsatisfactory" column are too brief, lack thoughtful content or are not posted on a timely basis earn from 0 to 7 points.

Homework

For all weeks, except weeks 7 and 8, , you will have homework from Exercises and/or Problems in your textbook related to the Chapter(s) covered that week. Ensure you do not submit an Exercise Solution if the assignment is a Problem and vice versa.

Each week's Lecture and Assignments will provide a detail description of the Exercises and/or Problems to be submitted that week. For each Exercise and/or Problem assigned, you will be instructed to submit the solution in Excel, Word Doc or a combination thereof.

For most of the Exercises and/or Problems to be submitted in Excel, I will provide you a template to use to complete the Exercise and/or Problem. If an Excel template is available, it will be provided as a link in the week's Lectures and Assignments site.

Solutions are submitted and graded on the Canvas site as detailed in the instructions at each week's "Post Your Homework" site.

Homework submissions will not be accepted after midnight Sunday of the week they are due. Any homework not submitted by the midnight Sunday deadline will earn zero points.

I will grade each week's homework problems and provide you feedback on your solutions. The suggested solutions will be available to you Monday morning each week so that you may review the solutions prior to taking that week's quiz. Grading of homework is done on an "honest effort" basis, not on 100% accuracy of the solution. This means you may earn the full points on a homework problem even if the solution is incorrect, IF your solution and any comments or emails you have sent me in trying to work the problem show you have given your best effort to understand and work the problem.

Quizzes

You will have a quiz each week. All quizzes will consist of multiple choice questions. All quizzes are open book, open notes. You may use your textbook, the weekly lecture, homework solutions, additional readings, DQ postings and any notes you have created from the course to complete a quiz. You may not collaborate with classmates or use any other resources on a quiz.

You may enter each quiz only once. When you exit a quiz, be sure to click on the "Submit" button at the bottom of the page. If you have a technical problem with your computer or internet connection, please send me an email immediately explaining the problem so we may find an equitable solution.

Each quiz is timed and the allotted time may vary from week to week. At the end of the allotted time, your quiz will be submitted at the point where you are when time expires. Each quiz must be completed and submitted no later than Tuesday midnight (Los Angeles time zone).

Quizzes consist of 10 or 20 questions (depending whether one or two chapters are covered the same week), each worth 2 points

Quizzes are not just to help determine grades, but should are also an additional learning tool. If you do not understand why your quiz answer is wrong, email me with your questions. I will reply directly to you, or if your questions is widely asked, I may respond with an Announcement posting to share the answer with the entire class.

✔ Evaluation

Criteria

Course Grades:

Discussion questions (DQ's) = 8 questions @ 10 points each = 80 points

Homework = 40 questions @ 2 points each = 80 points and 5 questions @ 4 points each = 20 points. Total possible points from homework = 100 points

Quizzes = 9 @ 20 points each = 180 points and 2 @ 40 points = 80 points. Total possible points from quizes = 260 points

Total possible points = 440

Optional Extra Credit Assignments....weeks, 9, 10 & 11...10 points each week. This is not a mandatory assignment.

Breakdown

Letter grades are based on points and will be awarded at the end of the class as follows:

Letter Grade	Range of Points to Earn the Grade
A	409 to 440
A-	396 to 408
B+	383 to 395
B	370 to 382
B-	352 to 369
C+	339 to 351
C	326 to 338
C-	308 to 325
F	Below 308

Letter grades may be curved. If the highest score earned in the class is significantly lower than 440 points, the above scale will be adjusted to use the highest score as the 100% level in the above table. Also, at each cutoff point, if a student is within 2 to 3 points of the next letter grade, the student will be given the benefit of the doubt and awarded the next higher letter grade. Note for graduate level or professional level courses like this one, UCLA Extension no longer awards D grades. Anything below

70% (308 points for this class) is a failing grade. If the course is being taken as Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory, anything below 80% (352 points for this class) is deemed Unsatisfactory. Theses are not my rules, but the rules set by UCLA Extension as of the Summer 2016 quarter.

✱ Course Policies

Instructor Expectations

I expect you to make the commitment to read the Lectures, the PowerPoint charts and the assigned Chapter(s) each week. You must also post your (a) responses to assigned DQ's, (b) your homework solutions and (c) your case study by their respective due dates. The classroom should be active all week, not just on weekends. Pacing your work earlier in the week will give you time for more thoughtful responses and provide for a better learning experience.

I expect communications to be professional and to use good netiquette (see Core Rules of Netiquette in week 1 reading file).

Please send an email to me if you have questions or are confused about an assignment.

I expect that your work will not be the work of others and that you will not plagiarize your DQ or Case Study submissions. See INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES - Student Conduct section that follows.

Other Course Information

At the end of this syllabus is a Schedule with due dates for each of your assignments. Any assignment not posted to Canvas by the due date will lose points for being late. Homework is due by Sunday midnight each week. Homework answers are made available on Monday each week. Homework not submitted by midnight Sunday will earn zero points. All other assignments not submitted by Tuesday midnight of that week will earn zero points. Any exceptions to the final Tuesday deadline (due to severe illness or other emergency) must be approved by emailing the instructor prior to the Tuesday midnight deadline.

A big part of what you will get out of the class and your course grade is based on the discussions you have with the instructor and your fellow classmates. Prior to answering a Discussion Question (DQ), doing the homework or taking a quiz, you should have read the lecture for that week, the assigned chapter in the textbook, PowerPoint Charts, additional reading material and announcements. Failing to read the week's lecture will likely cause you to miss points in that week's assignments.

Course Prerequisites

Prerequisite: X120A, B and C Intermediate Accounting Theory and Practice and X422 Management Accounting, or equivalent experience and consent of the instructor. The pace of this course is based on the assumption that you have a good knowledge of the practice and theory taught in the above courses.

🏛 Institutional Policies

Student Conduct

Students are subject to disciplinary action for several types of misconduct or attempted misconduct, including but not limited to academic dishonesty, such as cheating, multiple submission, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the University; or behavioral misconduct, such as theft or misuse of the intellectual property of others, harassment, or disruption of the learning environment. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the Student Rights & Responsibilities Policy and to report concerns regarding at: https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/studentConduct.jsp (https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/studentConduct.jsp).

Services for Students with Disabilities

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, UCLA Extension provides appropriate accommodations and support services to qualified applicants and students with disabilities. These include, but are not limited to, auxiliary aids/services such as sign language interpreters, assistive listening devices for hearing-impaired individuals, extended time for and proctoring of exams, and registration assistance. Accommodations and types of support services vary and are specifically designed to meet the disability-related needs of each student based on current, verifiable medical documentation. Arrangements for auxiliary aids/services are available only through UCLA Extension's Service for Students with Disabilities Office at (310) 825-7851 or by email at access@uclaextension.edu. For complete information see: https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/studentswithDisabilities.jsp (https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/studentswithDisabilities.jsp)

Incompletes

Your instructor may post the interim grade Incomplete/I if at the end of the class your overall work is of passing quality but a portion could not be submitted for understandable reasons (e.g. illness). It is your responsibility to petition your instructor for permission to submit work late and to provide an explanation, and it is his or her sole decision whether to accept the explanation. If permitted, the Incomplete/ I grade will be posted and a time frame defined for you to submit the missing work, ranging from one to twelve weeks. Incomplete/I grades that remain unchanged after twelve weeks will lapse to F, NP or U. Receiving an I grade entitles you to submit only the missing work your instructor has agreed to accept late, and does not allow other work to be retaken or oblige UCLA Extension to provide continuing access to course materials via Canvas. The Incomplete/I grade is not an option for courses that do not bear credit, such as 700, 800, or 900-level courses. For complete information, see: https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/grading.jsp (https://www.uclaextension.edu/pages/str/grading.jsp)

All Grades are Final

No change of grade may be made by anyone other than the instructor, and then, only to correct clerical errors. No term grade except Incomplete may be revised by re-examination. The correction of a clerical error may be authorized only by the instructor of record communicating directly with personnel of Student and Alumni Services.

Sexual Harassment

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in an atmosphere free of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. Every member of the community should be aware that the University prohibits sexual harassment and sexual violence, and that such behavior violates both law and University policy. The University will respond promptly and effectively to reports of sexual harassment and sexual violence, and will take appropriate action to prevent, to correct, and when necessary, to discipline behavior that violates our policy.

All Extension students and instructors who believe they have been sexually harassed are encouraged to contact the Department of Student and Alumni Services for complaint resolution: UCLA Extension, 1145 Gayley Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90024; Voice/TTY: (310) 825-7031. View the University's full Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence at http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000385/SHSV (http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000385/SHSV).

Additional Items

Protecting Privacy and Data During Live Instruction

Live meeting sessions for this class, when applicable, are being conducted over Zoom. As the host, the instructor may be recording live sessions. Only the host has the ability to record meetings, no recording by other means is permitted. Recorded sessions will be posted in the Videos area of this class unless otherwise notified. Due to privacy, recordings are not available for download and are only accessible via Canvas for the duration of the class. If you have privacy concerns and do not wish to appear in the recording, do not turn on your video and/or audio. If you also prefer to use a pseudonym instead of your name, please let the instructor know what name you will be using so that the instructor knows who you are during the session. To rename yourself during a Zoom meeting, click on Participants, click on your name, click on More, click on Rename. If you would like to ask a question, you may do so privately through the Zoom chat by addressing your chat question to the instructor only (and not to ""everyone""). Additionally, chat may be used and moderated for live questions, and saving of chats is enabled. If you have questions or concerns about this, please contact the instructor via Canvas Inbox.

Pursuant to the terms of the agreement between Zoom and UCLA Extension, the data is used solely for this purpose and Zoom is prohibited from re-disclosing this information. UCLA Extension also does not use the data for any other purpose. Recordings will be deleted when no longer necessary. However, recordings may become part of an administrative disciplinary record if misconduct occurs during a video conference.

Course and Instructor Evaluation

UCLA Extension values your feedback on course and instructor evaluations. We ask all students to take a few minutes to complete an end-of-course evaluation survey. Updates to the course and instruction are influenced by your feedback. Understanding your student experience is essential to ensure continuing excellence in the online classroom and is appreciated by your instructor and the UCLA Extension academic leadership.

Your participation in a survey is voluntary, and your responses are confidential. After instructors submit grades, they will be given an evaluation report, but this report will not contain your name.

About Your Online Course Materials

Please note the following about online course components at UCLA Extension:

- Students must have basic computer skills, including the use of word processing software, email, and the ability to use internet browsers, such as Safari, Firefox, or Chrome.
- Students are responsible for meeting the technical requirements of Canvas and familiarizing themselves with the Canvas Learning Management System.
