Description

Explore causes of risk on your projects and examine impacts by the triple constraint, workforce and vendors. Learn to apply optimized risk response strategies for successful execution and completion of your projects. Minimize risk impacts from procurement processes, and sharpen your negotiation tactics to ultimately sign win-win agreements with qualified contractors. This course will help you gain knowledge towards the PMP® Exam by PMI® and qualifies for the required 35 Contact Hours or PDU's to apply for or maintain an existing PMP® certification.

Objectives

During this course, you will:

- Gain proficiency in project risk management and procurement management theories and applications
- Apply project risk management and procurement management skills to real life and work situations
- Integrate the knowledge of risk management and procurement management into the overall schema of Project Management and identify inter-dependencies
- Acquire in-depth knowledge on the fundamental key concepts, terminologies, tools and techniques that prevail in the risk management and procurement management fields

Outcomes

By the end of this course, you should be able to:

- Describe project risk events (uncertainty), types of risks (threats/opportunities; known-unknown; unknown-unknown), as well as risk impacts, conditions, triggers, factors, averse, tolerance and threshold
- Develop Risk Breakdown Structure (RBS) using risk categories and identify risks using SWOT Analysis
- Develop risk register with key components, and recognize the relationship among categories, causes, risk impacts, and effects
- Apply analysis skills to prioritize risk impacts using both qualitative methods by developing Probability and Impact Matrix and Hierarchical Charts (bubble sizes), and quantitative methods using tools such as Diagramming Technique (Flowchart), Expected Monetary Value Analysis (EMV), Decision Trees, Sensitivity Analysis (Tornado Diagram), Monte Carlo Simulation (What-If Scenarios), and assess risk using parameters including urgency, proximity, dormancy, manageability, controllability, detectability, connectivity, strategic impact and propinquity
- Define risk response mitigation strategies and project recoveries, for threats including Escalate, Avoid, Transfer, Mitigate, Accept, and strategies for opportunities including Escalate, Exploit, Share, Enhance, Accept.
- Apply contingent response strategies including Contingency and Fallback Plans
- Describe the role of the project manager in risk management
- Recognize common risk management errors throughout a project
- Describe project procurement processes and uniqueness vs. other organization functions from planning, conducting, and controlling to closing stages on the project
- Evaluate make-or-buy analysis including the selection decision and rationale
- Define procurement SOW to specify work requested from sellers
- Identify procurement and bid related documents including NDA's, Non-competes, teaming, and joint venture, RFQ, RFP, RFI, IFB, and RFB
- Define source selection criteria to choose the optimal vendor for the work
- Describe the 10 different Contract Types, including Leter Contracts, according to readiness of SOW between buyer and seller
- Calculate the incentive and Award fees for sellers
- Recognize the varying risk impacts on either party.
- Identify and apply Terms and Conditions as one of the most important section within every contract
- Describe Negotiation tactics and outcomes as a mechanism to settle contract details before contract award and negotiation and to manage relationships throughout contract term

- Distinguish the dispute resolution methods with contract violations from claims administration, to ADR or litigation
- Identify the steps to manage changes and to monitor contracts from performance reviews, inspections, and audits to contract closing processes with a final formal written notice

Materials

All materials such as templates, case studies, and examples will be provided within the weekly Modules. You will be prompted to download the necessary materials as you progress through the course.

Required Resource

Process Groups: A Practice Guide by PMI®; ISBN-10 1628257830; ISBN-13: 978-1628257830

This book will be used as a reference only throughout the four core courses within the certificate, and is the most recent publication by PMI® to supplement the PMBOK Guide, 7th Edition.

Optional Books

1. A Guide To The Project Management Body Of Knowledge PMBOK Guide®, Sixth Edition, by PMI®; ISBN 978-1-62825-184-5

PMI® announced that this book is being discontinued and the content has been migrated into the required book for this course, "Process Groups: A Practice Guide". We will continue referencing this book as we value its content.

2. A Guide To The Project Management Body Of Knowledge PMBOK Guide®, Seventh Edition, by PMI®; ISBN 9781628256642 (paperback), 9781628256669 (epub), 9781628256666 (Kindle edition), 9781628256673 (pdf)

This book is the most current PMBOK publication by PMI®, however this course does not follow its content chapter by chapter. The topics from this book is covered throughout all the courses in the program.

✱ Course Policies

Instructor Expectations

Simply be yourself. Everyone brings different experiences to this course. Each of you will have different backgrounds, needs, expectations and concerns. I highly recommend that you share your experiences with each other. It is through our unique stories that we will learn the concepts together. As your instructor, it will be easier for me to meet your needs if you communicate them directly and sincerely. I hope you'll always find that I am responsive and supportive.

Professional Perspectives and Training

This course will give you the opportunity to see the world, your projects, and your professional relationships through clearer eyes and a sharper focus in order to deal with your work as a professional project manager, setting aside emotional responses and reactions, remembering at all times that you are representing:

- The team
- Your customer
- Your management
- Your organization
- The project

You must make sound business decisions leading your teams and projects successfully to the finish line and a satisfied customer.

Being a project manager is a unique role, which is far more and far different than any other professional position. You stand in the key leadership and management role for your project and with all that you engage.

You will realize that every work product that you produce must be:

- Professional.
- Fully understandable by any reader that may review it at any time in the future.

You will see that aggressive and dynamic Risk Management is directly traceable to the project manager's ability to navigate the project through the Impacts of the Risk Events to a successful project completion achieving the Triple Point of Schedule, Budget, and Performance and a satisfied customer.

For these reasons, you are expected to act as a professional project manager in this course and submit all formal work with document cover pages including titles, your name, and the date.

Course Format: Remote via Zoom

This course will be conducted remotely via zoom for 11 weeks unless it falls on a national holiday. Assignments are designed to be completed in an interactive style via Canvas. You may log in at any time of the day; however, you are expected to participate in the course on a weekly basis and complete all readings and activities as assigned. Pacing your work earlier in the week will give you more time for completing the discussions and quizzes.

Each week, you are expected to read the Lecture Slides and watch the Lecture Videos that are available in the course modules. Refer to the Weekly Lecture Slides - FAQ section in the Start Here section within the Modules tab.

I also recommend that you leverage online resources via searches such as Google, Wiki, and YouTube and read the reviews and discussions by industry experts and practitioners. Feel free to share new ideas, research, articles, revelations, and video links with your classmates in the online discussions.

Online Discussions and Feedback

Assignments in this course are in the form of online discussions to help you reinforce learned concepts through open-ended questions, encourage interaction and collaboration with your classmates, and promote learning from each other.

- Be prepared to respond to weekly online discussion questions regarding the concepts from the weekly lectures and videos.
- Active participation in weekly online discussions is essential in this course.
- Your initial posts, responding to my discussion questions, and your response to at least two of your classmates' posts are due each week at 11:59 pm (PT) - midnight before the class day.
- All postings will be reviewed and scored according to the assignment rubrics. Each discussion is worth a total of 10 points based on both the quality of your response to the posted questions (5 points) and your response to classmates (5 points).
- Your posts should:
    - Be professional.

    - Feature good writing, correct spelling, and correct mechanics.
    - Incorporate reflections, opinions, and pertinent information from things that you've read.
    - Provide examples from your life and work experience.
    - Include objective and critical analysis of what you read or experienced, or a short synopsis of a chapter or a related assignment from another course.
    - Share resources with others during the course.
    - Include formal work with document cover pages including titles, your name, and the date (when applicable).
- Your responses should:
    - Agree and disagree as long as they apply to the topic and are respectful.
    - Challenge your classmates' postings, but done in the spirit of being helpful and constructive.
    - Include more than phrases such as "I agree with that" or "Interesting comment."
- If a classmate's post has two replies, find another classmate whose post has less than two replies. That way, we can increase the overall communication for the discussion.
- All discussions will be reviewed and scored within 7 days of the due date.

Note: If you do not understand the weekly discussion questions, please email me immediately so that I can explain the assignment. This is much better than turning in a discussion that is not done correctly and losing points.

Weekly Quizzes

Quizzes are provided to reinforce learning of the weekly concepts. The purpose of the questions within the Weekly Quizzes is to provide you with a supplemental learning opportunity. The questions in the weekly quizzes are drawn from, but not limited to, the weekly lecture topics. While taking the quiz, in rare instances, you might notice some questions that are not from the weekly lecture topics. By presenting you with additional topics through these quiz questions, the goal is to provide you with comprehensive curriculum coverage of concepts and their applications. If you encounter a particular question that you may need help with, please do not hesitate to bring it up for clarification. Note that you can take the quizzes with no time limit restrictions from start to finish, and can also retake them multiple times to improve your grade and reinforce your learning through repetition.

Midterm and Final Exam

The Midterm and Final exams are comprehensive based on the knowledge areas covered within this course and are set up in multiple choice format similar to Project Management Institute's (PMI's) Project Management Professional (PMP) exam questions. Note that you can take the exams with no time limit restrictions from start to finish, and can also retake them multiple times to improve your grade and reinforce your learning through repetition.

Midterm and Final Presentations

This is a group assignment and I will divide you into teams at the beginning of the course. This assignments comprises of two components:

1. Live presentation as a team to me over zoom, or in-person within classroom sections. We will schedule the time-slots for the groups to present in a sequence closer to the due date.

2. Submission of your file into the assignment link.

These assignments are designed to help you practice skills that are essential to becoming a successful project manager. Select any topic that you learned from the course and create 15-20 slide presentations using PowerPoint, Prezzie, or another format. For the Midterm Presentation, select a topic covered during Weeks 1-6 of the course. For the Final Presentation, select a topic covered during Weeks 7-11 of the course.

Your presentations must:

- Demonstrate the skills you learned in this course.
- Include weekly templates provided within the lecture notes.
- Include conceptual materials and application to a real-world situation.
- Be professional. Assume that you are preparing it for your most important customer or the highest-level executive within your organization.
- Be creative.

You will be graded on the content of your presentations and required to present them live during class as a team on Week 6 and Week 11.

Once submitted, you will be able to view your classmates' presentations in order to gain from their expertise and insights and benchmark against best practices.

Deadlines and Late Work

- Please submit work by the due dates identified in the Schedule section below of the Course Syllabus.
- Life happens, and I understand that work and family emergencies occur that may prohibit you from submitting work on time. Please notify me IN ADVANCE of the deadline if an assignment will be submitted late; otherwise, 10% of your grade will be deducted for the first week the assignment is late and 20% for the second week and beyond.
- All work must be submitted by the last day of class.

Planning Your Study Time

This course is 11 weeks. To plan your study time, it is estimated that you will spend about 9 hours per week reading, researching, engaging in course discussion activities, and completing assignments. Depending on the extent of your academic preparation and experience with the topics, the amount of study time needed may vary considerably.

🏛 Institutional Policies

Student Conduct

Students are subject to disciplinary action for several types of misconduct or attempted misconduct, including but not limited to academic dishonesty, such as cheating, multiple submission, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the University; or behavioral misconduct, such as theft or misuse of the intellectual property of others, harassment, or disruption of the learning environment.

All published and unpublished material, whether in manuscript, printed or electronic form, is covered under this definition and includes the use of material generated wholly or in part through the use of artificial intelligence (except when the use of AI has received prior authorization for assessment as a reasonable accommodation for a student's disability, or when the use of AI is a specified part of the coursework, e.g. data science or user experience). Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the Student Rights & Responsibilities Policy (https://www.uclaextension.edu/student-services/rights-and-responsibilities) and to report concerns.

Services for Students with Disabilities

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, UCLA Extension provides appropriate accommodations and support services to qualified applicants and students with disabilities. These include, but are not limited to, auxiliary aids/services such as sign language interpreters, assistive listening devices for hearing-impaired individuals, extended time for and proctoring of exams, and registration assistance. Accommodations and types of support services vary and are specifically designed to meet the disability-related needs of each student based on current, verifiable medical documentation. Arrangements for auxiliary aids/services are available only through UCLA Extension's Service for Students with Disabilities Office at (310) 825-7851 or by email at ODS@uclaextension.edu. For complete information, please visit Accessibility and Disability Services (https://www.uclaextension.edu/enrollment-and-support/accessibility-and-disability-services).

Incompletes

The interim grade Incomplete (I) may be approved for a student who has completed the majority of the course requirements, with passing quality (grade C or higher), but is unable to complete a small portion of the coursework by the course end date for good cause. For courses in which an Incomplete may be allowed, approval by the instructor of record and the academic program director is required. The Incomplete grade is not an option for courses that do not bear credit, such as 700, 800, or 900-level courses.

- It is the student's responsibility to petition for an Incomplete by emailing the appropriate academic program department (https://www.uclaextension.edu/contact-ucla-extension) at least one week before the end of the course. The Program Department will initiate the petition process once the email is received.
- The student, the instructor, the CE/Program Director, and the program staff must complete the petition prior to the final course meeting or before the quarter end date (https://www.uclaextension.edu/calendar). This process can take up to one week to complete.
- The instructor will approve or deny the request. The instructor will provide details on what the student needs to accomplish in order to complete the course, as well as a due date for submitting completed work. The due date cannot exceed the end of the ensuing quarter (https://www.uclaextension.edu/calendar) when a final grade must be reported or the Incomplete lapses to the grade "F," "NP," or "U." Visit UCLA Extension Grading Scale (https://www.uclaextension.edu/transcripts-credits-grades/grading-scale) for more information.

An Incomplete allows the student to complete only work that is outstanding and does not allow prior completed work to be retaken or resubmitted.

All Grades are Final

No change of grade may be made by anyone other than the instructor, and then, only to correct clerical errors. No term grade except Incomplete may be revised by re-examination. The correction of a clerical error may be authorized only by the instructor of record communicating directly with personnel of Student and Alumni Services.

Sexual Harassment

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in an atmosphere free of harassment, exploitation, or intimidation. Every member of the community should be aware that the University prohibits sexual harassment and sexual violence, and that such behavior violates both law and University policy. The University will respond promptly and effectively to reports of sexual harassment and sexual violence, and will take appropriate action to prevent, to correct, and when necessary, to discipline behavior that violates our policy.

All Extension students and instructors who believe they have been sexually harassed are encouraged to contact the Department of Student and Alumni Services for complaint resolution: UCLA Extension, 1145 Gayley Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90024; Voice/TTY: (310) 825-7031. For more information, please view the University's full Policy on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence (https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000385/SVSH).

Additional Items

Protecting Privacy and Data During Live Instruction

Live meeting sessions for this class, when applicable, are being conducted over Zoom. As the host, the instructor may be recording live sessions. Only the host has the ability to record meetings, no recording by other means is permitted. Recorded sessions will be posted in the Videos area of this class unless otherwise notified. Due to privacy, recordings are not available for download and are only accessible via Canvas for the duration of the class. If you have privacy concerns and do not wish to appear in the recording, do not turn on your video and/or audio. If you also prefer to use a pseudonym instead of your name, please let the instructor know what name you will be using so that the instructor knows who you are during the session. To rename yourself during a Zoom meeting, click on Participants, click on your name, click on More, click on Rename. If you would like to ask a question, you may do so privately through the Zoom chat by addressing your chat question to the instructor only (and not to ""everyone""). Additionally, chat may be used and moderated for live questions, and saving of chats is enabled. If you have questions or concerns about this, please contact the instructor via Canvas Inbox.

Pursuant to the terms of the agreement between Zoom and UCLA Extension, the data is used solely for this purpose and Zoom is prohibited from re-disclosing this information. UCLA Extension also does not use the data for any other purpose. Recordings will be deleted when no longer necessary. However, recordings may become part of an administrative disciplinary record if misconduct occurs during a video conference.

Course and Instructor Evaluation

UCLA Extension values your feedback on course and instructor evaluations. We ask all students to take a few minutes to complete an end-of-course evaluation survey. Updates to the course and instruction are influenced by your feedback. Understanding your student experience is essential to ensure continuing excellence in the online classroom and is appreciated by your instructor and the UCLA Extension academic leadership.

Your participation in a survey is voluntary, and your responses are confidential. After instructors submit grades, they will be given an evaluation report, but this report will not contain your name.

About Your Online Course Materials

Please note the following about online course components at UCLA Extension:

- Students must have basic computer skills, including the use of word processing software, email, and the ability to use internet browsers, such as Safari, Firefox, or Chrome.
- Students are responsible for meeting the technical requirements of Canvas and familiarizing themselves with the Canvas Learning Management System.
    - What are the browser and computer requirements for Canvas? (https://community.canvaslms.com/t5/Canvas-Basics-Guide/What-are-the-browser-and-computer-requirements-for-Instructure/ta-p/66)
- Students are responsible for keeping a copy of all assignments and work submitted, and to be aware of all assignments, due dates, and course guidelines.
- Students have access to courses via Canvas for an additional 30 calendar days after the course end date listed in the syllabus (the first 14 days are full access; the rest are read-only).
- Students are encouraged to download/print content throughout the duration of the course and before the additional 30-day access ends. No further access is possible after the course becomes unavailable.

  To download all your assignment submissions in Canvas, please refer to the online support guide. (https://community.canvaslms.com/docs/DOC-10606) for more information or contact Canvas Support via the help menu within Canvas.

UCLA Extension Canvas and Learning Support

For immediate 24/7 Canvas technical support, including holidays, click on Help (located on the menu to the left) where you can call or chat live with a Canvas Support representative.

UCLA Extension Academic Technology and Learning Innovation
The UCLA Extension Learning Support staff assists both students and instructors with Canvas-related technical support, as well as general and administrative questions.

Learning Support staff is available Monday through Friday, from 8 AM to 9 PM (Pacific Time), except holidays:

- Email: atli@uclaextension.edu (mailto:atli@uclaextension.edu)

Campus Safety Escorts

For students taking classes held on the UCLA campus and in and around Westwood Village, the UCLA Police Department provides a free walking escort service every day of the year from dusk until 1 a.m. Community Service Officers (CSOs) are available to walk students, faculty, staff members and visitors to and from anywhere on campus, in Westwood Village, and in the village apartments. CSOs are uniformed students who have received special training and are employed by the UCLA Police Department. To obtain an escort, please call (310) 794-9255 and allow 15 to 20 minutes for your escort to arrive. For complete information, see UCLA Evening Escorts (https://police.ucla.edu/cso/evening-escorts).
